

Sarah fondly points out pieces of furniture that she and Gilbert purchased together, including their Georgian dining room set. "We were so thrilled to get this that we cried," recalled Sarah. "It's not French antique, but it was the first furniture we bought together as a family, and it meant so much to us." The inlaid table and ornate chairs sit atop a dramatic and beautiful rug from Cyrus Persian Rugs. The room is further enhanced by the floor-to-ceiling copper silk draperies and two of Sarah's paintings.
